With over 17 year's sales and auction experience, Rob is a recognised real estate industry leader. He began his career as a salesperson for one of Australia's leading real estate franchises, where he coached his team to serial record breaking sales months and established a reputation for outstanding leadership. His agent expertise led to buyer advocacy and auctioneering. He discovered in addition to possessing a particular flair for calling an auction, he absolutely loved it – and Auction Services was born.

Rob possesses everything you could possibly want in an auctioneer and more. His powerful presence, clear communication and utmost professionalism combine perfectly with his incredible sales knowledge and customer service skills to create an unrivalled auction experience.

What sets Rob apart from other auctioneers is his ability to extract the absolute maximum from buyers. He excels at assisting vendors and agents achieving outstanding sales results time and again. He's renowned for securing a sale when all hope was lost. Most importantly, Rob is hands on – he'll go that extra mile to produce the right outcome.
